LOMOND, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 1919

$1.00 PER YEAR.

LOCALETS . . .

The funeral of Arthur Sweetnam and the six-months-old child was held in Travers on Wednesday, April 2nd., they were both victims of the 'flu. The serious illness of the three-year-old daughter is also reported.

o o o

The 'flu in some districts is even more fatal than at first. A very sad instance is that of the Paul Neavins family. The entire family was ill at the same time. The mother and two-months-old baby died on Friday of last week, Mr. Neavins died two days later, leaving only the six-year-old son. Mr. Neavins' father and mother came up from the States intending to take the grandson home with them. Wednesday, word was received that he too had succumbed to the dread disease. The farm, near Lawndale, will be sold and the parents of the deceased will return to their former home.

o o o

G. D. Salter is a business visitor in Calgary this week.

o o o

Mrs. Crum is visiting her sister, Mrs. Viles of Reid Hill, for a few days.

o o o

A number of the young people attended the dance at the home of Mr. Root on Monday night and had a very nice time.

o o o

Mr. Bell, who has been seriously ill with complications resulting from the 'flu, was taken to the Calgary hospital. She bore the trip nicely considering her weak state. Mr. Bell reports he left her sleeping quietly.

o o o

W. A. McDonald was a business visitor in Calgary last week, returning home Saturday.

o o o

L. H. Phillips and son Allan returned from Winnipeg Tuesday.

o o o

T. A. Kennedy returned home from Calgary Monday, having spent a week.

Buck Petersen, formerly reported lost in the woods, has returned.

George Bratton, has returned to his homestead after a year of service for "Uncle Sammy". He served in the Navy having made four trips across the "Pond". Mr. Bratton homesteaded near the Midway school, but gave up Alberta as a bad job a few years ago.

John Munro has been awarded a verdict of $25,000.00 damages against the city of Cleveland for the loss of his arm, sustained a year ago.

W. A. Teskey reports the sale of a Ford car from his Travers garage.

The Peace Club meets at the home of Mrs. Frank Brown on Thursday afternoon, the 10th.

Spring has come with good openers for a successful game of farming. Since this sheet is late in going to press, we do not hesitate in mentioning the general downpour under the date of publication. With reasonable conservation there is enough moisture in it to start germination.

As a sign of the times, THE PRESS would bring to your attention the result of the Chas. Cummings sale. The stuff sold high, several horses going over two hundred, and over sixty per cent of the gross receipts were cash. How is this for a dry year?

On account of failing health John T. Shortridge of Armada is compelled to sell off his farm equipment and move south. His sale is billed for April 10.

The new town well is watering a good many head of stock every day and has every prospect of being a winner.

The postponed box social and base ball dance is now announced for Easter Monday—April 21st. Now girls, get out all your pretty new frocks and bonnets.

$5.00 A HEAD REWARD
Lost—1 red dehorned cow, about to freshen; 1 red molly 2-year-old heifer; 1 red yearling bull, halter on when left home. $5.00 reward per head for information leading to their recovery. Leave information with THE LOMOND PRESS.

LOMOND DISTRICT

A number have commenced seeding operations, but some old time successful farmers say there is plenty of time in the next two weeks.

o o o

Billy Benson is wearing some smile these days, but it didn't happen to be an April fool, for its a girl.

o o o

Gordon Elliot has engaged Mr. Paxton a returned vet. for the summer. Mr. Elliot is working the old Smith place east of town this summer and we expect some dust.

Dave Munro had the misfortune to lose one of his young work horses. It had been suffering a long time with an injured eye and it bled to death the other day.

W. W. Ainlay and family have moved again to their summer house. W. W. Ainlay will live in the former's residence in town.

One man in a hundred reads a book; ninety-nine in hundred read a newspaper. Nearly a century ago, when the American press, which is now a spreading oak, was in its green twig, Thomas Jefferson said he would rather live in a country with newspapers without government than in a country with government and without newspapers. At the beginning of 1919 resolve to at least say a good word for your home paper.

ARMADA

Mrs. G. B. Crane has returned from the north country for a months visit with the boys.

o o o

J. T. Shortridge, who has had th quit on account of ill health, is having a sale of stock and implements on April, 10th.

o o o

The U. F. A. expect to have Mr. Glenbeck of Milo to address them on Saturday April 5th. Ladies welcome.

o o o

Last Monday evening the community was started out of its usual peacefulness by the clang of plow share and rattle of tin pans with numerous other deafening sounds. The occasion was a shivaree at Mr. Grants. The neighborhood extend a hearty greeting to Mrs. John, who is from across the "Pond."

o o o

Once more seeding has begun, and the optimist is looking forward to a bumper harvest.

o o o

Mrs. A. E. Snyder has been on the sick list, but we are glad to report her much better.

Talk about the patience of Job and his afflictions with boils. Why, Job wasn't in it at all, look at Laurie.

Vandle Steibitz is attending school at Amethyst for a short time at least.

The Red Cross ladies met at the home of Mrs. A. D. Smith last Thursday afternoon. It is not yet known who was the topic of the day.

Dave Ryall is the proud possessor of a relic of prehistoric days, which he is pleased to call a car. It is apparently modern enough to have the popular disease known as the 'flu. The other day while driving it had a violent coughing spell omitting a frothy fluid from its internal internal reigns. Well quoth Dave as he cranked it up, "She aught to go now she's got that off her stomach."

The Amethyst local of the U. F. A. held meeting last Tuesday afternoon in the Alder School House. This local put itself on record as being in favor of calling a convention of the various locals of this constituency, to discuss ways and means of inducing the government to reduce or eliminate the tariff. It is gratifying to see that the farmers have decided to discuss instead of cursing politics.

Why not have a Board of Trade meeting and decide on a uniform time for the town?

If the Factories' Act calls for a weekly half holiday let's have it. Only, we might arrange with the other towns on the line so as all to observe the same day.

The government has suggested handing the tariff over to a commission. It's no good. We have a number of obsolete commissions in Canada now that, for the good of the people, should be dumped on the scrap heap.

Western Canada is demanding banking reforms, notably legislation that would permit the establishment of small locally organized institutions such as in the States. Already the big Canadian interests are campaigning against it, using the recent failure of a string of U.S. state banks as an illuminated example. In this instance depositors stood to lose more than a million dollars through the fourteen banks affected. Quite so, but they forgot to say that the U. S. system of banks pays up to 6 per cent interest on savings deposits. Canadians are paying far too high a rate for their security, but it is going to be a hard fight to inaugurate a change in the Canadian credit system.

Spring's "SNAPPIEST" Clothes for Men...

ORDINARY fabrics and extraordinary words---little tailoring and much boasting ---- a minimum of thought and a maximum of words---a lack of good taste and a lot of superlatives---these generally go together. Is it not so? And that is nonsense.

The only superlatives we know, and like, are the superlatives of Effort, Thought, Good Taste. These we have put into our clothing.

The men who plan our clothing are men of good taste. They know what successful, self-respecting men wish to wear. They are good judges of fabrics, of colors, of weaves, of patterns.

The tailors who make our clothing are trained to observe the niceties of workmanship that give a suit charactee—they always keep the quality up.

It is an asset to be able to say that—"We sell these clothes." For—whether you know it or not—many know how good these clothes are, for they are

Effect of the Armistice on Hoarded Money.

There is reason to think hoarding was practised a great deal more during the war than is generally believed. With peace assured, the hoarded money is now beginning to appear, and it is to be hoped that quite a lot of it will go to buy War Savings Stamps.

In the United States it is estimated that $1,500,000,000 were hoarded by foreigners during the war period. Banking authorities say that since the signing of the Armistice, this hoarded money has come out to surprising extent and this opinion is confirmed by the savings bank deposits. In New York State this class of deposits increased by $39,400,000 during the period from Dec. 28th, 1918 to January 12th, 1919.

Undoubtedly the cessation of hostilities has had a similar effect on hoarded money in Canada, for it is a well known that hundreds of people of foreign birth drew money out of the bank and either carried it on their person or hid it. The question is—how much of this money will go into War Savings Stamps? The whole country is vitally interested in seeing that a large portion of it is thus invested, while it is to the interest of holding such money to put it to this use.

member when the war came along, and the French wanted some assistance from Great Britain, the claim was put to Lord Haldane that at least 100,000 men should be sent over in a hurry. Lord Haldane replied that it would take at least two and a half months to get that body together. And the French increased their demands and they said we must have 150,000 men within 15 days. And the slow British said they would do the best they could. And then they muddled as they usually muddle all those things. We sent 250,000 men in 12 days.

"A few months ago we were thrilled in reading your papers about the enormous speed with which you were able to build ships in this country.

How you were building, turning them out in 15 days, and I know there is a shipyard in Great Britain which said: 'Let us see if we cannot do as well as the Yankees can.' But we muddled it as usual. They turned out the ship in eight days, and they were so ashamed of their performance that they decided the world should not be told anything about it." —Sir John Foster Fraser at the luncheon of the Pilgrims of the United States,
